Introduction

Being creative is not about what we do, but who we are while doing it.

No matter who we are or what we do, we all have a creative force that dwells within us. Our job is to take the time and intention to source that creativity. Being creative births contentment. It is, in fact the most powerful medicine for despair, depression, loneliness and addiction. When we are in the stream of our creativity, we become one with our highest potential. Physically, our energy levels change and become enlivened. Emotionally, we expose our empowerment and spiritually, we raise our consciousness. It is obvious and safe to say that being creative is the best weapon against all darkness.

Creativity comes in many forms. One does not have to be a great artist, or fabulous writer, or incredible actor, or famous designer to be and feel powerful within our own structure. How we decide to live our lives, how we spend our time, how we handle situations, how we parent, how we are friends or partners – all of this falls into the category of creativity.

Creativity aligns us with our limitlessness. Feeling limited is a human conditioning and self-imposed. It truly does not serve any good purpose. Our ego jumps in and says: “oh you cannot do that or you are not good enough to do this”. In fact, when we are not attached to the outcome, we find ourselves doing everything our hearts desire. Every minute of our lives becomes an opportunity for us to become the brilliant creator of our own existence.

Exercise 5

Co-Create

There is nothing quite so good for our development than to create with another.

Though it is wonderful to create individually, it is just as fulfilling to create in team. Team means Together Each Accomplishes More. When we put our competitive nature to sleep and awaken our cooperative spirit, we get energized and activated. We become like a puzzle, whereby each piece is as important as the next. As well, we feed off each other, which then nurtures our own unique creativity. The highest function of partnership or team is that each player gets stimulated during the pursuit of the creative endeavor. We grow from each other's differences and expand our creative nature. Teamwork or partnership awakens interest and kindles enthusiasm. Working with another is the vehicle to enlivening our great spirit and glowing heart.

1. Have you ever created something in team work and did you like it, if not why?

---

---

---

2. Have you ever created something in partnership and did you like it, if not why?

---

---

---

3. If you have never created anything in partnership or team work, would you like to, if not why?

---

---

---

4. If you want to co-create something, what would you choose to do and who would you choose to do it with?

---

---

---

5. Are you going to pursue this, if not why?

---

---

---

6. Where have you witnessed team work creating something wondrous or miraculous?

---

---

---
