

Higher Power Cards

Introduction

Our world is filled with stress, strife, imbalance, injustice, and confusion. Therefore, more than ever, we all need higher guidance. The Higher Power Cards are designed to infuse ways and words that reunite us with our potential power and purpose.

We all have a higher power within us; however, it is our job to keep it awake and alive. Pick one card a day. Then choose the sentence that resonates the most to you. By doing so, you remove yourself from the din and darkness of the world and become imbued with your original DNA higher-powered blueprint.

Problems are a given on this planet and no one escapes them. How we handle them is the key to our hope and happiness surviving intact. Believing in something larger than ourselves, seeing that we are all part of a much bigger picture enlightens us with answers and decisions that would otherwise be overlooked and suffocated.

We are all our own destiny map makers and though sometimes it is challenging, no one and no situation can take that from us.

See it to believe it - no - believe it to see it.

Acceptance

Today is the day of Acceptance

Do you know that we can cope with whatever comes our way, even when we feel we are stretched to the limit? Life is unpredictable with unexpected difficulties. There is the worst in the best of us and the best in the worst of us, so acceptance becomes one of the highest nutrients for a peaceful and less anxious life. It helps us deal with this complex, challenging world and handle it with greater ease. In reality, to be or not to be is rooted in our ability to accept.

Remember, acceptance is empowering what is, not what should be.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with acceptance.

Awakening

Today is the day of Awakening

Do you know that we can do anything we set our minds to, and dreams can become a reality? Seeing is not believing – believing is seeing. We must look for the signals and not hesitate. There is a dormant dynamo inside each one of us and the most beautiful thing is to awaken our profound power within. When we feel ourselves awakening, it means the baton has been passed to us and it's our turn to run with it. Then we use the impossible to accomplish the incredible.

Remember, for those who do not pause to wonder and be in awe, are in a deepened sleep.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with awakening.

Awareness

Today is the day of Awareness

Do you know that what is truly essential is sometimes invisible to our eyes? Therefore, it is essential to become more conscious of everything that surrounds us. Watch for signs – little and big. If we are going to heal things in our life, we must begin to sharpen our awareness. With crystal clear awareness, our life is far more protected from people who could muddy our waters. Our awareness is the ticket to a contented life with little regret.

Remember, awareness is the crucial step to our purity, power, and safety.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with awareness.

Bliss

Today is the day of Bliss

Do you know that one can always create something to be happy about, even in the darkest moments? It is the ability to live life in an open-hearted way – no matter the strife and trouble. Bliss is imbued with a radiance and holiness that overcomes sorrow, pain, and despair, bringing with it the victory over the forces of darkness. It emulates our elevated spirit, thus eliminating our ego. Bliss happens when we truly believe in the person we want to become.

Remember, bliss does not come from the absence of challenges, but the ability to deal with them mindfully.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with bliss.

Caring

Today is the day of Caring

Do you know that genuine caring inspires and influences people and the world at large? Every time we care, we extinguish injustice and diminish greediness. And this, in itself, is a warriorship against personal and global suffering. Without caring, there is no salvation. In truth, people will forget what we know or say, but people will never forget how we left them feeling. The art of caring just by one is a secret measure by which all humanity improves.

Remember, no act of caring is ever lost, as it becomes an integral part of the lives it touches.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with caring.

Change

Today is the day of Change

Do you know that change is inevitable and for a good reason? When we stop changing, we stop growing. Being willing to change requires clarity, determination, and a correct inner attitude. It is the cornerstone of what makes life so exciting and fascinating. We climb the spiritual ladder and leave behind what no longer serves our potential. When we cannot be fulfilled on one street, we simply find another avenue. The most effective way to proceed is just to proceed.

Remember, the greatest thing in life is not where we are, but in what direction we are moving.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with change.

Commitment

Today is the day of Commitment

Do you know that commitment is a fast track to our empowerment? We may experience defeat; however, when we commit, we never feel less from it. However, this takes emotional courage and spiritual strength. Strange indeed that people are so afraid to commit – yet nothing can succeed without it. It is undeniable that we may stumble, but when we commit, it is truly revering because when we get up, we do so with honor, self-respect, and inner satisfaction.

Remember, when we commit, no matter the outcome, we receive the precious gift of guiltlessness.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with commitment.

Consciousness

Today is the day of Consciousness

Do you know that if we are not part of the solution, we are part of the problem? Stability comes from being a carpenter of consciousness, knowing that an injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. Without consciousness, we are condemned to an unconsciousness that inevitably wounds. To cry is to have Consciousness Reaching You, as tears are the conceiver of our truth and vulnerability. Thus, they never conflict with our hearts or our higher power.

Remember, consciousness is a universal substance that brings order to chaos.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with consciousness.

Cooperation

Today is the day of Cooperation

Do you know that we are all interconnected and interdependent? As a result, cooperation is the foundation to building a more inclusive world. It is our ability to quell our competitiveness and conquer our ego. The greatest aspect of being a team means...Together Everyone Acquires More, and notice the letter 'T' is not in the word team. We infuse our higher presence into our human experience, thereby affirming a greater and more rewarding life.

Remember, our individual life is not important, except in the impact it has on the lives of others.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with cooperation.

Courage

Today is the day of Courage

Do you know that courage is the thunder of our beings, transforming and enlightening us? If we do not allow ourselves to feel fear, we cannot feel brave. When we know we are right, we connect to a higher voice and tap into the energy that keeps us unyielding. As a result, we start to see obstacles as opportunities, using our fear as a wisdom rather than a hindrance. When we live the ordinary life in an extra-ordinary way – we can say we are courageous.

Remember, there are heroes who may be courageous, but not all of those who act courageously are heroes.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with courage.

Creativity

Today is the day of Creativity

Do you know that everyone has the ability to be an incredible creator? We are all given different gifts so that our higher power can reach the world through us. Listen and tap into the creative universal reservoir, which mystically removes us from conformity. Our creativity is a powerful weapon against despair, destructiveness, and depression, opening us to the merits of hope and happiness. It ignites elements of light inside of ourselves that diminish elements of darkness outside of ourselves.

Remember, our creativity colorfully unites us with our grandest potential.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with creativity.

Decisions

Today is the day of Decisions

Do you know that our decisions are the mapmakers of our life? The difference between victory and defeat is the ability to make good and sound decisions. Each of us is often faced with dualities, but when we decide with discipline and discernment, our integrity reigns. It eliminates all fervor, ego-driven fantasies, unnecessary control factors, and complexities. Truthfully, it is our decisions that determine who we truly are, even more than our abilities.

Remember, for those who do not discern will soon find themselves in situations wishing they would have discerned.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with decisions.

Destiny

Today is the day of Destiny

Do you know that at any moment we can change our life for the better? When the yearning in us is released, we fulfill our destiny. It is our connectedness to our reason for being here. We need to expand our hearts, stretch our souls, and let our life grow wings. We must have the courage to defend what is rightfully ours so that we do not mix our destiny with another. The two most important days in our life are the day we were born, and the day we realize our destiny for being here.

Remember, our destiny is the mapmaker for our life's journey.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with destiny.

Enthusiasm

Today is the day of Enthusiasm

Do you know that enthusiasm is the torch of life, the light that more often than not, shows others the way? It carries within it the iron fist, while at the same time wearing the velvet glove. Enthusiasm infuses an inspiration that can transform a pessimism into an optimism. To be enthused is to be the producer of confidence, and the director of positive power. It is like a high mountain that becomes concretely immovable and unshakeable.

Remember, enthusiasm turns our pilot light into our flame.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with enthusiasm.

Faith

Today is the day of Faith

Do you know that we can maintain faith, even under the most challenging situations? More than ever today, we need faith. It truly is the means to transmuting fear, madness, and anxiety. When faith is bonded to action, one is in alignment with their higher power. Become a legend of faith for all those who doubt, deceive, or deny. It has been proven that the most beautiful experiences come from our faith rather than our ego or control.

Remember, faith is a carrier of hope, a gateway to happiness, and trumps all other merits.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with faith.

Focus

Today is the day of Focus

Do you know that nothing is impossible as the word itself spells “I’m Possible”? Alexander Bell made several thousand attempts before he discovered the right instrument for the telephone. By focusing on something, we energize it and then, in return, it energizes us. We utilize our failures as opportunities to begin again, but more intelligently. Focus is the gift that transmutes all uncertainty and complexity into solid purpose and profound productivity.

Remember, for us to find what we want, we must focus on what we want.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with focus.

Freedom

Today is the day of Freedom

Do you know that feeling free is a successful achievement in itself? It is not about where we are, it is how we FEEL about where we are. Freedom comes from honoring our own inner worth, and not being attached to what others think of us. It is a commitment to our purpose and why we are here. We take the risk rather than forfeiting our freedom. Nothing blocks our way, and we are free to fly. And thus, we are liberated forever.

Remember, feeling free is an inside job.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with freedom.

Forgiveness

Today is the day of Forgiveness

Do you know that forgiveness is the greatest gift we can give to ourselves? It transmutes anger and helplessness into compassion and empathy. Forgiving another is the fragrant bath that washes away resentment and rigidity. It is the oil that lubricates the friction in any relationship and protects our karmic outcome. When we show mercy, miracles are not far behind, and thus we become the stabilizer and equalizer for the entire world.

Remember, when we are forgiving to others and importantly ourselves, we have achieved enlightenment.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with forgiveness.

Generosity

Today is the day of Generosity

Do you know that those who give, wanting something for themselves in return, are not truly giving? Generosity is its own reward, as it infuses our higher power into our daily life experiences. Every unselfish thought has in it a seed of transformation. It unites our human nature with our heavenly nature because we become someone's unanswered prayer. Being generous is the equalizer that can solve the injustices due to the imbalances that exist in our world.

Remember, there is no greatness in grandiosity, but there is such grandeur in generosity.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with generosity.

Goodwill

Today is the day of Goodwill

Do you know that our goodwill results in a contagious movement of goodness? It permeates such positive energy that often creates divine healing. Goodwill produces a great aura of protection, not only to those who receive it but to those who send it as well. It serves as a demonstration of what humanity should and could be, sending a ripple effect to the world at large. Our goodwill is the ticket to our journey of life, with little regret.

Remember, let's not fool ourselves – no good deed goes unnoticed.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with goodwill.

Gratitude

Today is the day of Gratitude

Do you know that we cannot feel great if we do not feel grateful? When we view the glass as half full instead of half empty, we become an agent of divine healing for ourselves and others. When we remember what we have received, and forget what we have given, we are always rewarded with great good fortune. Grateful feelings seed and sow the frontier for a life of fulfillment. It pulls us through all hardships and elevates our existence.

Remember, gratitude is the radiance that prevails over all darkness.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with gratitude.

Inspiration

Today is the day of Inspiration

Do you know that to be inspired is to be consciously directed by our higher power? It is the fire that ignites our heart's desires, and in doing so, warms the globe. We fly on the wind of courage and determination, being divinely guided, not only to inspire ourselves but to inspire others. Inspiration is a gift, achieved as a result of a personal breakthrough that propels us to our imagination and hope. It awakens the gene in our genius.

Remember, inspiration leads us to the promise we promised ourselves.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with inspiration.

Intention

Today is the day of Intention

Do you know that the only thing that really matters is our good intentions? When we live a life motivated by purity, with no hidden agenda, we are free from any shaming reactions or criticism. Good intentions are what manifest the acts of genuine creativity and caring. This leads us to the real virtue of our emotions and intelligence. We are able to look a person in the eye, own our intention, and then speak it clearly and cleanly.

Remember, our good intentions can transform and divert all difficult tensions.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with intention.

Introspection

Today is the day of Introspection

Do you know that when we take the time to be quiet, our minds replenish, our bodies relax, our emotions reform, our hearts revitalize and our souls repair? This is why going within is so very important. As well, if we are out of touch with ourselves, we cannot touch another. Today, with all the noise of our world, quietude is more vital for our wellbeing than ever before. And more often than not, it seems to be the wisest move we can make.

Remember, introspection leads to self-inspection, which leads to an intelligent protection and highly regarded projection.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with introspection.

Intuition

Today is the day of Intuition

Do you know that understanding and listening to our 'gut' feelings is the best protection we have? It teaches us discernment, who, what, and where is safe, and who, what and where is not. It differentiates between what is important and what is trivial, when to be passive, and when to be aggressive. We must honor our intuition, as it is our higher power whispering in our ears. Honoring our intuition is the ultimate sophistication connected to our character.

Remember, intuition is a spiritual faculty guided by our higher knowing.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with intuition.

Kindness

Today is the day of Kindness

Do you know that genuine acts of kindness to just one person can affect the collective consciousness as a whole? When we focus on our kindness, we are accepting responsibility for the wellness of the world. Being kind is the initiation to a more respectful, humble, and caring humanity. For the disease of cruelty, kindness is the best antibiotic. In words – it creates confidence, in giving – it creates love, in action – it oversees the blindness in non-action.

Remember, when in doubt - do the kind thing - it's our emotional tithing.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with kindness.

Leadership

Today is the day of Leadership

Do you know that true leadership is not based on the need to be right? The best leaders are filled with honesty, blended with humility. Through this example, very often an enemy can transform into a friend. Following integrity and principles makes for an outstanding leader, something we are so in need of today. Everyone has leadership qualities, but sadly, few recognize this gift within. The true order of leadership is to instinctively know what is fundamental and what is ornamental.

Remember, great leaders practice before they preach – they are careful in words and true in deeds.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with leadership.

Learning

Today is the day of Learning

Do you know that a mistake is repeated until it is learned? To live to our full potential, we must be open to knowing there is much to learn and just as much to unlearn. When we feel stretched to the limit, that moment is very often the best opportunity for our personal growth. And miraculously it can become our greatest achievement. Yearning to learn keeps our ego in tow, whereby our brain gets activated and our empowerment gets motivated.

Remember, as Nelson Mandela said, "I never lose – I either win or I learn!"

Have a higher-powered day sparked with learning.

Light

Today is the day of Light

Do you know that bringing something to the light opens the door to a higher communication? Ancient ones recognized the light from above as being their constant subtle supporter. Enlightenment comes from an ascended integration, which can only be present when we protect our individual light. Our light is the way-shower, keeping us safe from darkened forces. We learn to smartly differentiate between our innocence and our ignorance.

Remember, light-making is infused with incessant sincerity and heartfelt humbleness.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with light.

Love

Today is the day of Love

Do you know that love can overcome all shadow feelings, such as fear, pain, anger, and hurt? It holds the cohesiveness of our higher power. It is amazing how the heart of a problem is always a problem of the heart. However, humanity is losing the true meaning of love, which leaves us with a garden that is not blooming, or a rose left with only the thorns. To love for the sake of being loved is human, but to love for the sake of loving is pure enlightenment.

Remember, though love does not make the world go round, it makes the world less edgy.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with love.

Loyalty

Today is the day of Loyalty

Do you know that betrayal is a travesty that breaks our hearts and a tragedy that punctures our soul? Therefore, we must start to practice the art of being loyal. We do this by keeping to our bond, which supports our own highest good. Where there is no trust, there is no room for fulfillment, and we are simply left empty-handed. Treating ourselves and others in a loyal manner outshines and out-maneuvers the forces of disgrace and discredit.

Remember, loyalty is the basic sustenance of any and all healthy relationships.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with loyalty.

Mastery

Today is the day of Mastery

Do you know that any fault half recognized is half corrected, yet any fault fully recognized is true mastery? We cannot become a master of our destiny until we master our ego, as ego is Edging Goodness Out. A master's journey is reaching for the perfect union of detachment, discernment, devotion, and discipline. Though this sounds easy – it can be quite difficult, as it is birthed from infinite intelligence and unflinching strength.

Remember, the doctrine that everything is for the best is not truth; however, making the best of everything is mastery.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with mastery.

Miracles

Today is the day of Miracles

Do you know that miracles do in fact occur, as they did in biblical times? However, they can only manifest from ego-less desires, integrity, and sincere belief. Miraculous events are the intervention from above, showing us that we are not alone. We need to focus on the bigger picture, our higher power, and the concepts of limitlessness. When we stay away from the limits and the impurities of this world, infinite spirit struts its stuff!

Remember, miracles are the manifestation of faith in action.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with miracles.

Mission

Today is the day of Mission

Do you know that our soul only fully develops once we accept our mission? When our external growth matches our internal knowledge, a door opens to our higher power. We accept our mission and help make this world a more loving and meaningful place. Our deep emotions, when put into practical use, becomes our mission. Then we do not miss the road to our fulfillment. Our heart and our head unite, thrusting us into our rightful place.

Remember, our mission is a map that drops from the sky, showing us the divine blueprint for our earth experience.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with mission.

Peace

Today is the day of Peace

Do you know that in order for peace to reign, we must learn to speak our piece in a way that others can hear us? When doing so, we are not responsible for the way they react to our communication. We are not at peace because our challenges are solved – our problems and challenges are solved because we are at peace. If people would start their communication with “I feel” rather than “You are”, peace would become inevitable. No one feels shamed, therefore, defensiveness is eliminated.

Remember, peace is possible when it is not negotiable.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with peace.

Perseverance

Today is the day of Perseverance

Do you know that before anything else, perseverance is the subtle key to our success? It is the vehicle for our soul growth, mind development, and personal fulfillment. We overcome obstacles and adversity by seeing our challenges and mistakes as opportunities for advancement. Through this ride, we swim with the tide, we don't hide what we have inside, we become void of all false pride, and we know when to abide – now that's perseverance!

Remember, to persevere is to not sever anything before its time is up.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with perseverance.

Power

Today is the day of Power

Do you know that we all have the power to create the life we want? However, our empowerment is derived from commitment and lost through vacillation. It is time to remove the cement shoes that keep us stuck in fear and put our ideas into concrete results. Asserting our power to do our best in this minute puts us in the best place for the next moment and the future. When used properly, our power is filled with vitality and a vehement belief in ourselves.

Remember, power is best utilized when empowering others.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with power.

Principles

Today is the day of Principles

Do you know that principles, not intellect, make for greatness? They are generated through our consciousness and character. Principles are the solemn practice of non-participation in what we believe is evil. Because our world today has strayed so far from principles, and fence-sitting will surely lead us into troubled waters, we must be more steadfast to our principles. In truth, they are our lifeboat in the turbulent sea of today's madness.

Remember, our principles are our soul's compass.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with principles.

Purpose

Today is the day of Purpose

Do you know that self-mastery comes from knowing our purpose and why we are here? It helps us rise above the day-to-day mundane life and see things from a much bigger perspective. We get through the challenges and obstacles by simply staying focused on our raison d'être. When we know our purpose, we feel our power. No matter what kind of house we live in, we stay determined to build a cathedral with our life, because we use our purpose as our foundation.

Remember, the natural state of heaven in this world is purpose.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with purpose.

Respect

Today is the day of Respect

Do you know that being respected is a much greater compliment than being loved? It is our integrity made obvious; the integration of our pure unconscious motive infused into our conscious intent. Respect comes from the social code of combining our human nature with our higher power. We dare to do what is right in the face of all adversity. In doing so, we keep to the standards that leave us feeling gracefully whole and primarily integral.

Remember, respect comes from our determination to inspect, reject, select, object, reflect, effect, inject, and direct.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with respect.

Serenity

Today is the day of Serenity

Do you know that serenity requires much more than just being quiet? Serenity accommodates the work of awakening one's internal intelligence and external energy. It allows us to quell our emotional reactions and quest our mindful responses. We do not push our will. Instead, we learn to accept the things we cannot change with ease and refinement. This ultimately gives us more energy to focus on the things we can surely change, which leaves us feeling ever more so serene.

Remember, if our difficulties can be solved, why worry - if our difficulties cannot be solved, worrying is a waste of our precious time.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with serenity.

Sharing

Today is the day of Sharing

Do you know that sharing is the one powerful solution that can solve most imbalances? In truth, there is enough of everything for everyone, whether it be money, time, or love. The challenge is we live in such an unbalanced world. We must work to be an example of quieting our greed and quickening our generosity. No one has ever become poor from sharing. In fact, sharing pioneers inroads that pave the way to a richer and more rewarding way of life.

Remember, we are what we share.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with sharing.

Strength

Today is the day of Strength

Do you know that strength lies in the absence of pride and the presence of perseverance? Being a lionheart is knowing our weaknesses and their priceless value, thereby strengthening our resolve. We must be strong in what we stand for and careful in what we fall for. The recipe for protecting our strength, and not allowing others to drain it lies in our ability to know our weakness. We then can deal with them truthfully and tenaciously and that's strength.

Remember, our strength is our moral and our mindful might.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with strength.

Success

Today is the day of Success

Do you know that our greatest success is to be ourselves in a world that is constantly trying to make us be something else? Even failure is a fabulous success, as it is the best teacher and purifier of force and matter. It is not as important to be a person of success, but rather a person of value and valor. In fact, when we leave this world, as we all will, the only thing measured is not how much we have, but in how well we loved and cared for others.

Remember, success is going from defeat to defeat, without any loss of faith and enthusiasm.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with success.

Truth

Today is the day of Truth

Do you know that nothing good can happen without truth? Finding and speaking the truth is the most important lesson of life, and yet sometimes it can be the most challenging. For our soul to be fulfilled, truth is something we must seek, and honest is something we must be. A little white lie leaves our purity in grey-filled darkness. Being true-ly who we are is the best gift we can give to ourselves, as it is essential for our soul's survival.

Remember, truth be told – truth must be told!

Have a higher-powered day sparked with truth.

Understanding

Today is the day of Understanding

Do you know that understanding is the wisdom that can solve all separation? Our mandate must not be to see through one another, but to see one another through. Through understanding, we develop a mutual recognition and respect for differences. Understanding is the tongue of our higher power and through listening, we master great problem-solving skills. We eradicate confusion and unsound judging, thereby empowering clarity and sound judgments.

Remember, situations must be understood in order to deal with them effectively and wisely.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with understanding.

Vision

Today is the day of Vision

Do you know that visionaries can appear as fools to the eyes of the world because their ways and rules are very different from the world at large? As visionaries, we see through magical glasses, revealing the diamonds beneath the rough. We envision what can be, rather than what is. Visions are the seed of our imagination, which is the first step to birthing something. We become shape-shifters for a greater reality, that forms new ventures for a more interesting humanity.

Remember, vision is the preview of life's coming attractions.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with vision.

Vulnerability

Today is the day of Vulnerability

Do you know that our greatest mastery is being able to show our vulnerability? Our vulnerability is connected to our authenticity, which is connected to our truth, our spirit, and our soul. With all the difficult events happening on this earth plane, it is sad that most people believe they have to hide their vulnerability. Yet it is so needed for things to change for the better. Exposing our vulnerability is the willingness to expose our naked heart.

Remember, without our vulnerability, we can neither be intimate with another's soul, nor our own.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with vulnerability.

Wisdom

Today is the day of Wisdom

Do you know that ignorance is the planet's biggest enemy? It becomes ignited and empowered by ignoring circumstances. Therefore, if we are to counterbalance this ignorance, we must transform our knowledge into our wisdom. Accountability stems from realizing that it is not what one knows that counts, but what one does with what one knows. Wisdom is our greatest protector and happy are those who have it....and better yet – use it!

Remember, our wisdom is downloaded from our higher power.

Have a higher-powered day sparked with wisdom.
